

BRAVES TAKE THREE STRAIGHT FROM ATHLETICS

Defeat the Champions in a Remarkable Twelve Inning Game Full of Fast Plays- Nearly 40,000 People Witness Greatest Game In Series

The Braves have made it three straight for the world's championship, taking the third game on Monday at Fenway Park, Boston, before a crowd numbering close to 40,000 and in one of the most exciting and best played games of any world's series, the games going twelve innings, and ending just before darkness fell, with the score 5 to 4.

It was a wonderful game and one that kept the great crowd keyed up to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. It was favored by a day as fair as any in June, with a temperature which made even a light overcoat uncomfortable.

The Braves clearly outplayed the Athletics in all departments of the game, and with the exception of Connolly's miff in left and Johnny Evers' two slip ups they played perfect baseball, never letting the veteran Athletics get the jump for any length of time. Tyler pitched a great game and he was taken out in the tenth to let Devore bat for him and big Bill James who succeeded him was air tight for the last two innings. Bush also pitched a great game for the Athletics and he fielded his position beautifully, his only slip being in the twelfth which cost him the game, the low throw to third which went past Baker allowing Mann running for Gowdy to score the winning run.

Bank Gowdy was the hero of the game, for he made three hits, two runs and a home run and every hit was productive of a run. He caught a wonderful game, and kept Tyler steady by his clever stops. There were some very fast plays, Evers and Maranville pulled off a speedy double, Maranville making the throw to first while Collins was still under him to second. In the eighth Schmidt made a wonderful stop of Bush's ball just over first which he broke and then recovered in time to toss to Tyler who covered the base in time to get an out.

Stuffy Melinus played a great game at first covering a lot of space and his stop of Baker's wild throw in the ninth was sensational. Baker at third played a fine game while Barry at short had nine chances which he accepted.

The Athletics scored in the first inning, Murphy smacking out a two base hit, was sacrificed to third by O'Driscoll and scored on what Collins intended for a sacrifice fly to Connolly in left, but he dropped the ball. Baker struck out and Melinus walked but Collins was caught napping off second.

The Braves got one on in the first after Moran had filed to Collins. Evers played in left and stole second but Connolly filed to Baker and Whitted struck out.

Tyler batted up in the second and the Athletics were out in order, Evers making a great one handed catch back of second of Schrang's fly. The Braves tied the score in the second, after Schmidt and Deal had been retired, Maranville drew a pass and made second and he scored on Gowdy's two base hit into the Royal Boxers stand in left field. Tyler retired the side on a ground ball to Barry.

The Athletics were out in order in the third but took the lead in the fourth after Collins had filed to Evers and Baker had been struck out for the second time. Melinus drove a two base hit to left and scored on Walsh's single through third.

The Braves again tied it up in their half. Whitted was thrown out by Collins after a fast stop back of second, Schmidt put one out of reach of Baker and he advanced on Deal's grounder to Collins, and scored on Maranville's single to right, after he had pushed out a fly that fell just outside of the foul line and had circled the bases. Gowdy was passed and on his attempt to steal second Maranville was tripped on third and was caught on a quick throw.

Neither side scored until the tenth, the Athletics being shut out in the sixth on a very speedy double and in the ninth they had two men on, Baker doubling to left but he was left in the seventh deal doubled but he was also left.

In the tenth Schrang opened with a single to left, Bush fanned, Murphy hit to Tyler who was slow throwing to second and both were safe. O'Driscoll hit to Tyler who broke it and Evers gathered it in time to get O'Driscoll at first, Schrang going to third and Murphy to second. Collins was passed filling the bases, and Melinus hit a hard bouncer to Evers who fumbled and Schrang scored. While he was holding the ball talking to Tyler, Murphy scored from third. Melinus ended the rally with a high fly to center.

The Braves came right back with a rally. Bank Gowdy walloping the ball into the center field bleachers for a home run, Devore batting for Tyler struck out, Moran drew a pass, advanced to third on Evers' single to center that Walsh made a good try for and scored on Connolly's sacrifice fly to Walsh.

Big Bill James came in to pitch. It was rapidly getting dark and his speedy balls were too much for the Athletics and they were retired, Walsh to James, Barry to Schmidt, Schrang walked but Bush fanned.

The Braves were out in order, Schmidt filed to O'Driscoll Deal to Walsh and Maranville was thrown out by Baker.

The Athletics failed to score in the twelfth, Murphy was passed, O'Driscoll was thrown out by James, Collins filed to Deal, Baker was passed and Melinus hit to Evers who forced Baker at second.

It looked as though the game would be called an account of darkness with a tie score, but Gowdy was up and he

WE SHOULD SAY SO
If you wish to go outside of New Hampshire to the Boston and Maine railroad, the safe way is to purchase one of the 1000 mile mileage books which are now $22.50 instead of the old price of $20. You can buy a 500 mile book for $40 but they are good only in New Hampshire, and cannot be used for any part of an interstate journey. The mileage business is getting just a little mixed.—Woodsville News.

VICTIM OF AUBURN HOLD-UP WILL DIE

Manchester, Oct. 12.—Sam Trilling, who was shot and seriously wounded at Lake Massachusetts recently, probably cannot possibly recover from his injuries.

A consultation between a Boston specialist and Dr. M. E. Keen, the attending physician, after an examination of the victim, revealed the fact that his condition was so critical that it would be impossible to attempt an operation. As the only chance to save the man is through an immediate operation, there is practically little chance of his recovery.

For several days past Mr. Trilling has been sinking lower and lower. The bullets, which are still in his body, have begun their work and as long as they remain inside he has not the slightest chance of living. And in his present condition the physicians decided that

INJURED IN AN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

A small runabout, rather over-loaded with young men came to grief on Sagamore road early Sunday morning and two of the young men were more or less injured.

The car was coming from the direction of Rye and in rounding the curve below Holmes, the rear wheel collapsed and the occupants were all thrown out. One of the occupants, Fred Legro of Somersworth, was incunabulous when picked up and he was taken to the Portsmouth Hospital, where Dr. P. S. Tancie attended him, but found that a fractured collar bone and some contusion was the extent of his injury. Another in the party had his right hand injured but he did not stop to have it treated.

One to live, according to this latest report. He is hovering between life and death at the present time with an improvement noticed in his condition. The bullet which was poured into his body by Rickart are accomplishing their deadly work.

CLUB TEAM MATCH A TIE

The annual team match of the Portsmouth Country Club was held on Saturday afternoon and it was followed by the usual breakfast supper at the club house.

The two teams were captained by J. Edward McLaughlin and Joseph P. Conner and it resulted in a tie, the deciding match between John K. Bates and A. O. Shaw going 20 holes and it was too dark to finish.

Following the match Chief Percy Kelley had supper ready in the club house, plates being laid for thirty and he served a most excellent menu of beefsteak, fried onions, gilded sweet potatoes, rolls, roast cheese, crackers, coffee and cigars.

Those present were President Wallace Hackett, Mr. G. A. Wood, J. E. Pickering, Postmaster J. P. Conner, Mr. Edmund C. Terrell, J. M. Washburn, T. P. Phelan, R. D. McLaughlin, Ira Newell, John K. Bates, Arthur B. Duncan, R. C. Dickey, Charles H. Walker, A. O. Shaw, E. A. Gundy, Morgan Dyer, John M. McPherson, J. M. Waldron, R. W. Jenkins, Boardman Randall, A. B. Hatch, Geo. B. The child was taken to the Portsmouth Hospital where Dr. Taylor performed an operation relieving the pressure of the skull on the brain and the little one is getting along nicely.

American Goods for America.

The department of agriculture is convinced that the European war creates an excellent opportunity to build up the reputation of American cheese, and that it is one that should be improved by the farmers and manufacturers of cheese. In the past large quantities of cheese have been imported, there having been a belief that some brands, at least, were better than could be made in the United States, and perhaps they were, but the real explanation of such large imports is to be found in the foolish belief of many that for strictly first-class articles we must go abroad. In other words, we have been in the habit of crediting foreigners with the ability to outdo us in manufacturing and in the production of certain articles of food and drink, and have been sending them large sums of good American money for things that could just as well be produced at home, even getting in some instances goods which were made in the United States and which seemed superior under foreign labels.

So far as cheese is concerned the department of agriculture is quite right when it says that American makers should more completely control the American market. The effect of imagination in this field was aptly illustrated a few years ago. In a party of Americans traveling in Europe was a prominent business man who was very proud of his own country and very loyal to it, but who found in one place cheese such as he thought he had never eaten before. It was so good that he talked about it at the table and finally went so far as to ask the proprietor of the hotel where it was made. He was greatly surprised and equally pleased when informed that it was made in America.

It is a well known fact that many American goods are sold as importations, some even being sent abroad and shipped back in order to complete the deception. It is a common understanding that this is particularly true of wines, but the same thing is practiced in connection with certain other articles, and why? Simply because of the foolish belief that imported goods are better than can be produced at home.

It is time for Americans to learn to judge goods by their quality rather than by the name of the country in which they were made. When this is done there will be little need of importing cheese, and the same will be true of many other kinds of goods which can be produced in the United States as well as anywhere in the world.

And now Chicago claims to have unearthed a "crime trust" in which a large number of saloons and policemen are involved. According to reports, the principal "industry" of this trust has been pocket picking, the swag being divided among the various elements of the "trust." Keeping things straight in a big city is no small undertaking, especially when forces that are supposed to aid are found to be active on the other side.

It is now claimed by some noted physicians and scientists that rheumatism is a germ disease. The discovery of the cause of this disease and a cure for it would be a great boon to suffering humanity, but it will not do to jump to conclusions because some of the germ hunters think they are on the right track, though it is strictly in order to hope they are, as every man who has ever had a single "twinge" will agree.

Walter Damrosch warns the New York Symphony Society, of which he is the conductor, and which is composed of 85 musicians representing 13 nations, that strict neutrality is the order of the day in that organization. In view of the proclivity of musicians to squabble at any time, the great conductor will be fortunate if he is able to maintain peace in such an aggregation at such a time as this.

The average person has a feeling akin to disgust when he reads of such a thing as the payment of $1750 for a rare postage stamp, made the other day by a New York man. The only comforting thought in this connection is that such expenditures provide convenient channels for the flow of surplus wealth back to where it came from.

The "pork" in the river and harbor bill has been greatly reduced under the pressure of decreased revenues, yet there will be rejoicing by the favored localities when they receive their shares of the "hunk." The largest, $3,750,000, goes to the Mississippi river commission.

A Paris economist says the war will cost more than 17 billions of dollars if it lasts six months, but who can tell how many lives it will cost? And these are worth more than dollars, no matter how far the latter may run into the billions.

The government estimates the value of the country's crops this year at $10,000,000,000. Is there any reason why such a country should not be able to do business in spite of war on the other side of the water?

STYLES FOR MEN!

Will London still dominate the styles for men? Will there be a new and distinctly American note in clothing?

What will be the influence of the war on male attire? That there will be distinct changes in many classes of apparel as a result of European conditions is apparent. They may not, however, manifest themselves until Spring styles are ready.

In the attire for Fall and Winter are many attractive patterns and fabrics even if distinct novelties are infrequent. The stores are now showing these new things and the advertising in this paper gives the news of their whereabouts from day to day.

CURRENT OPINION

WOMAN WHO MARRIES FOR A HOME FOOLISH

The woman who marries for a home or to avoid spinsterhood or to escape loneliness is sure to regret it. The question a girl should ask herself is not "Can I be happy with this man?" but "Can I be happy without him?"

I believe that young people should fall in love and marry early. If a man loves a woman in his own walk of life he will be able to take care of her. She will be an incentive to spur him on. As for the girl, if she cares she will be willing to begin small and to live economically. If they have the right sort of love for each other their whole lives will be sweetened and enriched.—By George Scarborough, Dramatist.

IMPORTANT COUP IN GALICIA EXPECTED

Russians Keeping Movement of Troops a Secret--General Advance Being Made--Austrians Claim Victory at Przemyśl.

Petrograd, Oct. 12.—Further advance of Russian troops through Galicia and Bukovina was announced in a war office statement today. The general staff has decided for the present to withhold details of the fighting in this neighborhood, from which it is concluded that an important coup is impending. In pursuance of this policy of secrecy, no hint of the location of the cavalry engagement in which Prince Oleg, son of the Grand Duke Constantine, was wounded in the leg, has been given. Officially the situation in East Prussia is unchanged.

Petrograd remains silent as to the movements of the Russian armies, but hints that secrecy is necessary for the time being because important operations are pending.

Latest reports indicate that terrible fighting, partaking of the nature of siege operations, has taken place during the last fortnight around Brest-Litovsk, and Albert, the last named place having been completely destroyed. Inspectors of the works from which the Germans were driven show that they took the fullest possible advantage of the existing rock quarries.

Not that the opposing forces are deployed in a comparatively level country, shorter periods of vigorous fighting probably will produce more decisive results than did the engagements while the opposing lines were entrenched against each other.

From Austria came reports by way of Italy, of the rapid spread of Asiatic cholera and of the sufferings being endured by the Austrian troops on account of the unusually cold weather. The Rome newspapers, commenting on the appointment of Gen. Zupelli as Italian minister of war, consider it sufficient that he should have been born in Capo d'Istria, an Italian province still in the possession of Austria. Under the new minister it is expected that preparations to place the army on a war footing will be hurried, but Italy apparently is still firm in the determination to remain neutral.

London, Oct. 12.—A dispatch from Amsterdam to Reuters' Telegram company says:

"A telegram from Vienna states it is officially announced that the Austrian rapid advance has relieved Przemyśl, Galicia, of the Russians. The Austrians have entered the fortress at all points and where the Russians attempted resistance they were beaten. The Russians fled in the direction of the river San, attempting to cross at Shulaya and Lezayak, where a great number were captured."

SEVERAL AMERICAN JOURNALISTS LEFT PRIVATE HOUSE

London, Oct. 12.—The Chronicle's Antwerp correspondent, who has just reached London, says that the day before the Germans entered Antwerp he went to the Queen's hotel to a certain the whereabouts of a group of American journalists who had been staying there. He found they had left the city, after having spent the night in a private house which was thickly littered with shells and which finally caught fire.

HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATED AT PORTLAND

The high school foot ball team went to Portland on Monday and fell easy victims to the Portland high, being defeated by a score of 41 to 0.

The locals were outclassed and overweighed and could not do anything in the rushing game. Their trial of the open passing game was disastrous, as the Portlanders intercepted three forward passes from which they scored.

The team has evidently received a set back and they are not going along as well as was expected. They seem to lack the proper spirit and must brace up if they are to keep up their record started the first of the season.

WILL HOLD HEARING ABOUT TRIP TICKETS.

The Boston & Maine railroad has petitioned the public service commission asking for the right to discontinue the sale of five, ten, twelve and 100-trip tickets within this state, and to establish in their place 50-trip tickets at a rate of two cents per mile. The public service commission has announced that it will hold a hearing on the matter, Oct. 16. The following is the text of call for the hearing:

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

The Boston & Maine railroad, on October 1, 1914, having filed tariff N. H. P. S. C. passenger tariff No. 158, under which said corporation proposes, on November 1, 1914, to establish new rates for fifty-trip tickets on a uniform basis of two cents a mile, and having on the same date filed supplement No. 11 to tariff N. H. passenger tariff No. 11, under which said railroad corporation proposes to cancel all five, ten, twelve and one hundred-trip fares, leaving no fares on like traffic in effect, it appearing that there is occasion to investigate the lawfulness and reasonableness of said proposed rates, it is Ordered that a hearing be held at the office of this commission in Concord, on October 16, 1914, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, when and where said railroad corporation and all other parties interested may appear and be heard with reference to the lawfulness and reasonableness of said proposed rates.

By order of the Public Service Commission this ninth day of October, 1914.

WILBUR THEATRE

There is a new street in Boston it is called "The Road to Happiness." It starts right at everyone's doorstep, in Boston or throughout New England, and leads right to the Wilbur Theatre in the Hub City. There is where William Hodge, that unique actor of the American type of character, is scoring his latest big hit in "Comedy of Circumstances." The play is properly styled "The Road to Happiness" for it sends its laughing and heart-touched audiences away all the happier for seeing it. They feel better after this delightful picture of "just plain folk." Hodge's well-known personality that of the shrewd, cool Yankee, which he made so famous as "Daniel Pike" in "The Man From Home," shines out just as brightly as ever. His sayings as Jim Whitman make him a cousin of Artemus Ward, Josh Billings or Mark Twain. His humor is thoroughly American, full of unexpected surprises, com-

COLUMBUS DAY OBSERVED WITH PARADE

Italians of Court Tripoli, Foresters of America, Hold Parade and Celebration

Monday was the four hundred and twenty-second anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus, and the day was celebrated throughout the country. The local Italians celebrated it, by having a parade, and making a general gala day. Many houses in the North End flew American and Italian flags, side by side, and red and white and green pennants, bearing the picture of Columbus, were very much in evidence.

Shortly after eleven o'clock the parade formed on lower Market street, and marched up as far as Eagle Hall, where Court Tripoli, Foresters of America, joined the parade. Giacomo Rinaldi, president of Court Tripoli No. 46, headed the procession, after which came the City Band. Then a float made to represent a ship, and then a number of automobiles, containing Foresters and members of the G. A. R.

The ship was decorated with American and Italian flags, flowers and pennants bearing the picture of Columbus. On the ship was a man dressed to represent Columbus and a crew of sailors. The procession went up Market street to Market Square to Congress to Islington streets to Cabot to Middle to State to Pleasant to Market street. It disbanded.

Following the parade refreshments were served in the hall, and several speeches were made by prominent Italian business men. The band gave a concert in the afternoon.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine. Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp. Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

GUN WENT OFF WHILE CLIMBING OVER WALL

Edward Chick living on Maplewood avenue, had a curious accident on Saturday afternoon. He had made over a gun from a shot gun down to a revolver size by sawing off the barrel. He was out on Saturday afternoon and while climbing over a stone wall he slipped and the gun went off and the kick was so great that it tore his hand between the thumb and index finger. Dr. W. O. Jenkins was called and dressed the wound.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative system clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

NO NEWS FROM FRONT IN TWELVE HOURS

London, Oct. 12.—Except for a flood of vivid details regarding the fall of Antwerp, the British public has been practically cut off from news from the front during the past twelve hours. It is felt, however, that events of tremendous importance either are occurring or are impending in the area about Lille, where the cavalry of the contending forces has been in violent touch for the past week.

The military critics for the London morning papers devote their space to speculation regarding the utility of Antwerp for German offensive or defensive. Most of them agree that unless British neutrality is violated Antwerp will be of no more use in forwarding the Germans' purpose of making Zeppelin and aerial raids on England than other places in Belgium which have been occupied for some time by the invaders.

Release Several Divisions

They agree, however, that for military purposes in the western theatre of war, the occupation of Antwerp is of supreme importance to Germany, which now will be able to release several divisions to aid the sorely pressed right wing. Furthermore, the capture of the city will insure the lines of communication should retreat be necessary through Belgium.

"The fiercest fighting during the last fortnight," says Reuters' Paris correspondent, "centred around Albert, Roye and La Bassée. Not an acre of ground in this region is without traces of the terrible struggle."

Albert, which was first regained from the Germans, is a heap of ruins. Only the gilded clock tower remains. Roye sustained an unbroken bombardment for a fortnight, and no longer exists. La Bassée was the last strong hold of the enemy, being the point of the wedge which the Germans were endeavoring to drive into the allies.

"The struggle in this region had much of the same character as that on the right bank of the Aisne. Around Roye, as around Soissons, the Germans made the most of the quagmires in establishing a defensive, necessitating a regular slogging on the part of the allies. There, as in many other places, the enemy had prepared his ground in time of peace."

Military experts here anticipate in the near future an attack in force by the Germans on the Angli-French lines between Bruges and Tournai. Of Gen. von Bessler's force of probably 130,000 men—those who formed the army of attack on Antwerp—the greater part it is believed, will shortly swing in a

Allies at Ostend Strong

The conflict believed to be impending will come along the river Lys. The Germans will attempt to sweep forward from there, seeking to drive before them into the North sea, the Franco-Belgian British forces concentrated about Ostend.

No fear is felt here of the success of this movement. The allied line, which was originally formed in attempt to turn the flank of Gen. von Kluck, has been prolonged day by day and has almost uniformly been successful. His force will now be augmented by the remnants of the Belgian army which evacuated Antwerp, and by fresh troops which it is persistently reported here, but without official confirmation, have been sent to assist from England. It has also been frequently stated, although again without confirmation, that a strong naval force is concentrated at Ostend.

Additional details of the shelling of Antwerp indicate that the damage was not as great as at first estimated. The damage inflicted on the city by the German army has not yet been fully ascertained. The damage done by the great destruction wrought on German shipping in the harbor by the Belgians.

The Chronicle's Antwerp correspondent who has just reached London, says that the day before the Germans entered Antwerp he went to the Queen's hotel to ascertain the whereabouts of a group of American journalists who had been staying there. He found they had left the city after having spent the night in a private house which was "hit by shells and which finally caught fire."

"Not Seriously Damaged"

"Antwerp was not seriously damaged by the German bombardment," says the Chronicle's Amsterdam correspondent. "Only the suburbs of Berchem and the southeast quarter of the town suffered badly."

"Long after they had been evacuated the Germans continued firing on and around the ruins of the blown up forts. They feared mines and hoped thus to destroy them. Near the southern suburbs the ground had been extensively mined by the Belgians, but the Germans were warned by traitors from within the city and took care to avoid the danger zone."

"On Thursday morning the retreating troops from Antwerp passed on their flight to Ostend no fewer than 500 motor cars filled with soldiers who had already passed through the town. The intention was to reach Ostend by forced marches, and the soldiers were relieved of their knapsacks, which were carried in the vans. Motor buses from London carried footsore troops who had fallen out of line. Then came columns of machine guns drawn by dogs."

The procession continued all day, and late that night the artillery passed through. They had been in a rear guard action. An officer says they had accounted for "heaps of Germans."

Aldermen Met in Cellar

Describing the numerous fires in Antwerp during the bombardment the Daily Mail's Berken-op-Zoom, Holland, correspondent in a dispatch dated Sunday says that Breinen tried to extinguish the flames, but 30 shells or shrapnel fell among them, killing several and wounding two, discouraging them from further attempts.

"The Antwerp aldermen and some of the city notables gathered every day in the cellars of the town hall with the consuls of neutral countries," continues the message. "The municipal employees working in the offices in a neighboring street threatened to leave. They sent a deputation to the aldermen, who allowed them to go with their families to a last mass in the Cathedral on Thursday at 10 o'clock."

"The church was then closed. Mr. Cleynebaas, doyen of the Cathedral, passed the following night in the cellar of the Anna Byn school with 25 priests and laymen. He said mass and gave holy communion and later, having consulted with Cardinal Mercier, he left town. He could not hire any vehi-

Hotel de Ville it was evident that Antwerp business was at a standstill, officials hurried to and fro with anxious faces. At 8 o'clock the following proclamation dated Oct. 7, was posted, announcing the departure of the government:

Issue Proclamation

"After long hesitation and vain attempts to secure a victory on other fields of battle, the German army has pursued for a month now the siege of the fortified positions of Antwerp. In these circumstances, the government has the duty not only to maintain its communications with all parts of the country not occupied by the enemy, but also to place safe from all risk the liberty of its deliberations and actions and the continuity of its relations with guaranteeing powers and with other nations which accord to our valiant country their sympathies and good wishes."

"Sacrificing itself to the imperious obligations of which all patriots will measure the importance, the government has decided to transfer itself to another point of national territory. It quits Antwerp with a grateful memory of generous hospitality and takes refuge in a place which, faithful to a high national mission, this faithful city has for almost two months assured to the government perfect tranquility in carrying on all public functions."

"After, as before its departure, the army will oppose to the enemy most obstinate resistance. The government has the certainty that the valiant population of Antwerp will in turn support it with abstinence over common fields, with the same sentiment of patriotism as our other cities and more humble villages, and will avail with unflinching confidence the approaching hour of deliverance and reparation."

"At 8.30 o'clock burgomaster Deves with three of his sheriffs, entered a motor car and went in search of Gen. von Bessler, German commander in charge of the attack. The burgomaster bore himself with quiet dignity."

MEETING ON SOUTH END IMPROVEMENT

A meeting will be held under the auspices of the Civic Club of the South Ward room, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The object of the meeting is to interest the people concerning the improvements desired at the South End. The speaker of the evening will be the Hon. Edward H. Atkins. The public are cordially invited.

DON'T INJURE YOUR KIDNEYS

Take a Teaspoonful of Rheumalax for Lame Back or Bladder Trouble

"Do you occasionally have a 'crick' in your back? Does your back ache with a dull, heavy, racking thro? Is it hard to straighten up after stooping? Is it hard to rise from a seat or to turn quickly?"

If you are bothered in this way, then your kidneys need attention. No doubt your blood is filled with uric acid. This irritating acid has caused your kidneys to become weak from overwork. It has made them sluggish, the liver and bowels are clogged, and the waste which should be drained from the system is retained in the blood to poison the entire body.

Kidney disease starts mysteriously and sometimes leads to Dropsy and Bright's Disease.

At the first "pain in the back" get from your druggist about two ounces of Rheumalax. Take two teaspoonfuls in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your back will feel free, because your kidneys are working right.

Rheumalax is a wonderful effervescent lithic acid, which helps the weakened liver and bowels and cleans out the stomach of toxins and poisons and leaves the intestinal canal clean and sweet. It is delightful to the taste. It is an absolutely harmless uric acid solvent as well as a saline laxative. Acts quickly without griping or nausea.

If your druggist does not keep genuine Rheumalax, remember there is nothing "just as good." Rheumalax is prepared by the famous Rheumalax Company, Minneapolis, Minn.

Miss Gaby Deslys, the world's favorite dancer, recently playing at the Comedie-Margity, Paris, says: "All women who are careful of their beauty use Savon Cadum."

A woman's most valuable asset is her beauty. Pretty features are not necessary. A clear, clear complexion, with the glow of youth, is what is most admired by both men and women. This may be obtained through the regular use of Savon Cadum, the great French complexion soap. It affords a natural means for cleansing the pores of waste matter. It beautifies, softens and preserves, and is especially good for tender, irritated skins. It is a luxury and necessity in the toilet and the bath. At leading drug and dept. stores, 50c. a cake.
